The DE LAVAL MILKER solves the milking problem

One man can milk three times as many cows in an hour with a De Laval Milker outfit as by hand. It is the fastest Milker known, and it is always uniform in action and speed.

It is on the job weekdays, Sundays and holidays. The cows like its uniform, pleasing action and give down their milk freely.

The ownership of a De Laval Milker is a permanent insurance that the cows will be milked in the same manner every day.

HENRY M. CHENEY DIES AT HIS CLIFF-ST. HOME

Had Been Employed at the Fairbanks Scale Works Fifty-one Years

Henry M. Cheney died at his home on Cliff street Thursday morning, aged 74 years.

Mr. Cheney was born in Waterford Dec. 31, 1845, being the son of Danforth and Lois (Pike) Cheney. His father died when he was only nine years old, but his mother lived to be over 90. As a boy he went to Kirby to live with his older sister, Mrs. L. K. Quimby. When 17 years old he came to St. Johnsbury and entered the Paddock Iron Works where he learned the machinist's trade. After an apprenticeship of three years he entered the scale shops where he served for 51 years, never missing a day on account of illness in all that period. On account of ill health he left the scale factory in January, 1919, and at that time the only older man in service was Henry E. Byrd, who had entered the shops a few days before Mr. Cheney. The latter was an expert machinist, was for many years foreman of the machine department and later engaged in special work.

Mr. Cheney enlisted in the First Vermont Cavalry in the Civil war and was assigned to duty on the Vermont border. He was a member of Chamberlain Post, No. 1, G. A. R., and the third member of this organization to die within a week. He was active in the Masonic bodies of the town, being a member of Passumpsic Lodge, No. 27, F. and A. M., Haswell Royal Arch Chapter, No. 11, Caledonia Council, No. 15, R. & S. M., Palestine Commandery, No. 5, K. T., and the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Cheney was for some years a member of the board of village trustees and many of the present improvements in municipal conditions are due to his wise foresight and advice. He was a republican in politics and was a candidate for town representative a few years ago.

Mr. Cheney married in 1866 Mary Spencer at St. Johnsbury, who died August 1, 1917. He leaves a brother, Kenyon G. Cheney of St. Johnsbury, one son, Clinton M. Cheney of Chicago, and a grandson, Joseph M. Cheney. The funeral will be held at his late residence on Cliff street Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. A. P. Grant.

Mr. Cheney was a man who had no enemies, of strict integrity, and a man who will be greatly missed in the community.

George Swett of North Danville spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Swett.

Mrs. Charles Poole and children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McDowell at North Danville.

PHONE GIRLS

HAVE MERRY

TIME AT BALL

Annual Affair Given By St. Johnsbury Operators Is Huge Success

Sunbeams, brooks, and winds are dancing. Don't you feel like dancing too? Now that winter's reign is over, and the world is fresh and new? Then, let's ring off for a while, and just dance with spring, and smile.

This little jingle written by Miss Myrtle Aldrich, phone girl at West Burke, emphasized the spirit at the annual ball of the St. Johnsbury telephone operators at the Armory Friday night. Everyone in that merry party felt the spirit of spring and just wanted to dance. And they did to their hearts content.

The party was "called" at 9 o'clock and it was after 1 a. m. when they "rang off" a tired, but happy crowd to wend their way homeward. They all voted that the pretty phone girls (all centrals are pretty) except when the line is out of order or you get your wrong party on the wire) and when it comes to dancing these girls are certainly Irene Castles.

Too much credit cannot be given the various committees who arranged the affair. Miss Mary Delaney, chief operator and her sister, Miss Mildred Delaney, chairman of the dance committee, and all their assistants, were busy seeing that everyone had a good time. And they succeeded admirably.

Few have ever seen the Armory in prettier dress. The decorations consisted of blue, yellow and white crepe paper, hung in streamers from a huge blue bell in the center of the hall over the orchestra platform, which was covered with a lattice work of crepe paper. Great credit is given Mrs. Alice Rowen for the decorating.

She was in charge of this committee which put in many hours of hard work to get the very pleasing effect which delighted the spectators and dancers.

Burroughs' orchestra of seven pieces was in its usual excellent form and none could sit out to the strains of the dizzy jazz and dreamy waltz played by this aggregation of musicians.

The grand march in which over 125 couples participated was led by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Nichols and Frank Murphy and Miss Mary Delaney. Misses Gladys Bigelow, Mildred Delaney and Jane Carrier were the introduction committee and made all visitors feel at home.

Throughout the evening a delicious punch was served from a prettily decorated booth by Miss Marian Merrill assisted by Miss Dorothy Merrill, Marshall Milmore and Carter Merrill. C. E. Merrill, manager of this division of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., was on hand to lend his aid in keeping every one happy.

Luncheon of ice cream and cake was served by the Mothers of the American Legion boys at intermission.

The committees, who made the affair so great a success, were: Chairman, Miss Mildred Delaney; entertainment, Miss Ada Burns; decorating, Mrs. Alice Rowen; Miss Alice Lentine, Miss Mildred Morron, Mrs. Pearl Page, Miss Dorothy Tubman, Miss Florence Bennett; introduction, Miss Gladys Bigelow; Miss Mildred Delaney; Miss Jane Carrier; publicity, Miss Elizabeth Bassett, Mrs. Bertha Morrill, Miss Mary Delaney. Among the out of town operators who were here to enjoy the affair were: Miss Clanner and Miss Berry of Newport and Miss Bennett, Miss Stevens, Miss Jewett, Miss Whitehead and Miss Marsh of White River.

SHE FEELS FINE NOW

Aches and pains often indicate kidneys out of order. Your kidneys surely need help—and quickly—when your hands or feet are swollen and you feel dull and sluggish, lose your appetite and your energy and there is a puffy look under the eyes. Mrs. L. Gibson, 12th and Edison St., La Junta, Colo., writes: "My kidneys were giving me a great deal of trouble for sometime. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me right away. I feel fine now." FAIRBANKS

ATHLETIC ASS'N

IS ORGANIZED

Nearly 100 employees of the Scale Company met in Pythian Hall Thursday evening to organize the E. and T. Fairbanks and Co. Athletic Association. Reverdy A. Cramer presided and called upon C. B. Rathbun to report for the committee on organization. Mr. Rathbun read the proposed constitution and it was adopted without any changes.

The following officers were then elected: Pres., Martin T. Carr; vice pres., Harry B. Conley; sec., R. A. Cramer; treas., F. C. Beck; directors, Henry Gallagher, E. E. Burrows, Fred Lavigne, Henry Donahue, W. H. Stewart, Mike Coleman, F. M. Byl, George J. Gagner, F. E. Church, O. E. Beck, C. B. Rathbun, Edward Bishop.

Mr. Rathbun asked for an expression of those present as to the advisability of securing the services of Charles Hoernle, now athletic coach at Norwich University. He said he believed they were on the track of just the right man for the place and that he could come here permanently the middle of June. He said preliminary practice in baseball would be started at once and that until Mr. Hoernle came a suitable organizer and trainer would be engaged. A. J. Beck and several others heartily favored securing Mr. Hoernle as director of the athletics and sports.

Mr. Rathbun then spoke of the plans of the organization. He said the dues had been placed at 50 cents a year with the expectation that the dues would pay all the bills of the new organization. He said there were great possibilities for the development of the association, and while base ball was the first thing to be considered, there would be a chance for golf and lawn tennis in the summer and basket ball and other indoor sports in the winter.

Mr. Rathbun spoke of the proposed base ball league to be formed in northeastern Vermont, and it was voted that the president and two others to be appointed by him attend the meeting at the St. Johnsbury House Saturday afternoon in the interests of their association.

Informal remarks were made by several present, including President Carr, Secretary Cramer, Rex Turner and others.

L. S. Long said he was heart and soul for the success of the new organization and was particularly interested in the prospects of having tennis courts. He believed this would interest the 100 women employed at the factory as well as many of the men.

E. E. Burrows said he was interested in soccer football and would be glad to coach anybody in this game with the idea of having games later in the season.

Mr. Rathbun spoke a good word for golf and offered to teach anyone the game. Before the meeting closed all present joined the new organization, and it was voted that Secretary Cramer appoint a membership committee, consisting of one from each department, to get every employee of the factory to join the new organization.
